The Inside Story

All Mountain Technologies Moved A Prominent Master Association To The Cloud

Secure and convenient access to work files has never been more important. With remote work as the current default business model, all types of businesses need simple access to their work, whether they're at home, on the go, or working at the office in a reduced staff setting.

This was a primary concern for a large-scale master association that manages nine communities and plans programming and festivals in Keystone, CO — that's why they got in touch with AMT.

This Master Association Enlisted AMT to Optimize Their IT Environment

As a Master Association, they manage a multitude of properties while their Event Services organize popular local festivals, so it was imperative that everyone at the company had secure and convenient access to its files. Unfortunately, all those files were sitting on a server in their office. They were easy to access for staff at the office, but not so easy when they started working from home or when they were on-site at a property or event.

Even worse, their prior IT support provider wasn't able or interested to help them upgrade their systems. This IT partner's methodology and infrastructure simply did not support the direction they wished to take their business

The bottom line was that this master association needed to arrange for a better way for their staff to access files remotely. They knew they could do better, which is why they asked AMT for help.

AMT Moved This Master Association's Files To The Cloud

A cloud migration is a big process, and if it's not handled correctly, it can be error-prone and overly expensive. An improperly managed migration can result in a range of negative consequences:

- ▶ During the transition, the business could permanently lose key data with no backup or redundancies to replace it.
- ▶ The migration, already expensive, could take longer than expected and add additional downtime to the staff's work life.
- ▶ Once it is installed, the platform requires a different way of working, so incorrect implementation and training could lead to more downtime for your staff.

That's why this high-profile Keystone, Colorado business relied on AMT to handle the process. By having an expert IT company manage their transition to Microsoft 365, this event planning company's staff could focus on their own work and trust that the process was being attended to.

With Their Files Stored Work Has Never been Easier For This Master Association.

By moving their phones, e-mail, files and folders to Teams, AMT eliminated this firm's reliance on a server, PBX system and joined their machines to Microsoft Azure Active Directory using Microsoft 365. With our help, they can now work from anywhere, from any machine, and do it securely.

All their processes are now optimized for remote work. They can now co-author and share via Microsoft SharePoint instead of sending attachments back/forth and not being certain who has the most recent copy.

Given how well this project went, this Keystone master association elected to hire AMT full-time to manage their IT. We help them with both daily IT issues and big IT projects to help keep their systems optimized.
